2018 American Association of Adapted Sports Programs (AAASP) ASPIRE Awards Winners Named

Atlanta, October 30, 2018—The American Association of Adapted Sports Programs, Inc. (AAASP) honored fifteen key people and organizations Sunday night for their outstanding contributions to support student athletes with physical disabilities to get “off the sidelines and into the game.” Adapted Sports Programs in Recreation and Education (ASPIRE) Award recognizes the significant contributions of these individuals and organizations that have been central to the mission of making adapted sports programming available nationwide. Through these programs, student athletes with physical disabilities across the country reap the physical, social emotional and academic benefits of competitive athletics resulting in personal and social empowerment.

AAASP is pleased to announce the winners of the 2018 AAASP ASPIRE Awards at the ASPIRE Awards Banquet at the Renaissance Concourse Atlanta Airport Hotel; for more information on all of our winners, please click here: http://adaptedsports.org/congratulations-to-the-2018-aaasp-aspire-awards-winners/

A heartfelt thanks to our special guests, emcee and host, longtime Atlanta sports anchor Sam Crenshaw, and guest speaker, world class athlete and 4-time Paralympian and Olympic silver medalist Jean Driscoll, as well as our sponsors for making the evening possible: The Coleman Family, in Memory of Scott Coleman, Slappey & Sadd, LLC, Georgia High School Association (GHSA), AAASP Board of Directors, Flaghouse, ABC Medical, Beitchman Law Firm, Michele Sims, and the National Alliance of Black Interpreters, Atlanta Chapter.

Tickets for our nominees for this year’s 2018 ASPIRE Awards Ceremony were provided free of charge through a donation from the Coleman family. Cara Coleman provided the generous donation in memory of her late father, Scott Coleman, who was a dedicated Adapted Sports coach and mentor to countless student athletes in DeKalb County Schools.

The American Association of Adapted Sports Programs (AAASP), headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, is a not-for-profit association dedicated to developing interscholastic adapted sports programs in partnership with national, state, and local educational agencies. It represents a standardized approach to extracurricular adapted team sports and has developed one of the nation's most comprehensive school-based athletic programs for students with physical disabilities attending grades 1-12.
